The Health Services Research Conference Program Committee invites anyone interested in health services research to attend the 12th annual Utah Health Services Research Conference. This includes: current/future researchers, policy makers, clinicians, administrators, public health practitioners, and members of the community. The goals of the conference are to promote health services research in Utah and to facilitate interaction and communication among individuals interested in patient centered health services research.

Health services research examines how people access health care, how much care costs, and what happens to patients as a result of this care. The main goals of health services research are to identify the most effective ways to organize, manage, finance, and deliver high quality care; reduce medical errors; and improve patient safety. (Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality or AHRQ, 2002)
