

FAMILY MEDICINE DIVISION CHIEF/VICE CHAIR
UNIVERSITY OF UTAH HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER

The University of Utah's Department of Family and Preventive Medicine is seeking an experienced, board certified family physician to direct a well-established family medicine division and serve as the vice chair for the Department as a whole. Duties will include overseeing a 22 member family medicine faculty with diverse educational, clinical, and research roles, as well as 24 residents and two fellows. As Vice Chair, the incumbent will work closely with the Department Chairman and Department Administrator to lead all areas of the Department, support division chiefs, program directors, and medical directors in their roles, contribute to development of and help implement all areas of Departmental strategic planning, budgeting, management, and operations, and represent the Department to the School of Medicine, University Hospitals and Clinics, Health Sciences Center, and outside collaborators. In addition to family medicine, the Department includes highly ranked graduate programs in public health and physician assistant training, and a NIOSH Education and Research Center with a residency program in occupational medicine, and graduate programs in occupational and environmental health and industrial hygiene. Previous family medicine academic leadership experience is a prerequisite. Training and/or experience within other Departmental disciplines preferred. Faculty rank and salary commensurate with training, experience, and previous accomplishments. The University offers a very competitive benefits package, and Salt Lake City provides a rich blend of opportunities for both urban and outdoor activities. The University of Utah is an OEO/AA employer and encourages applications from women and minorities.
