Thank you for being part of our laboratory community! The impact you have on patient care does not go unrecognized. We hope you have an enjoyable Medical Laboratory Professionals Week, and take a moment to celebrate yourselves, and this great profession!

-The University of Utah Medical Laboratory Science Program

Techniques do not produce quality products and services; people do, people who care, people who are treated as creatively contributing individuals.

-Tom Peters